Helios Energy™ is a clean energy services and solutions company.

Our mission is to help you achieve your energy goals. We partner with clients to audit current energy consumption and to implement energy reduction and clean energy production solutions. We combine the power of solar energy, LED lighting and energy management systems to substantially reduce client energy and maintenance expenses, minimize their CO2 footprint, and drive profitability!

WHY HELIOS?

The clean energy marketplace is a complex world littered with confusing industry jargon, constantly evolving technologies and ever-changing rebates, tax incentives and financial structures. Helios helps clients audit consumption, define clean energy goals, and design cost-effective solutions.

WHAT MAKES HELIOS DIFFERENT?

It's our end-to-end clean energy consulting process:
1. Quantify Goals
2. Identify Opportunities
3. Design Solutions
4. Source Equipment
5. Arrange Financing
6. Install Solutions
7. Measure Results
8. Monitor Ongoing Performance

Helios Energy™ is a team of clean energy experts with years of experience.

We recognized that no one organization could possibly retain all of the resources and experts required to fully address LED lighting, Solar Energy and Energy Management System requirements. Therefore our model was designed to bring in strategic partners at key points in the process to provide the depth of knowledge and experience, as well as the resources required to deliver superior results.

Many clean energy companies address these three technologies separately. We know of no other organization that can bring all three of these together to reduce and manage energy consumption, as well as produce clean power!

The Helios team serves as our client's "internal" clean energy consulting resource and guides our clients through this comprehensive and unique process.
